Sandicor, Inc. Partners with CRS Data CRS Data MLS Tax Suite expands coverage to California

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. – Tuesday, February 23, 2016 – Sandicor, the San Diego County Regional Multiple Listing Service owned by the three Associations of REALTORS® in San Diego County serving over 19,000 members, has selected CRS Data's MLS Tax Suite to provide its membership with reliable, easy-to-navigate property data and mapping tools. CRS Data is a leading provider of public record information for real estate, banker and financial professionals across the United States.

“We spent more than a year researching property tax data systems to find the right combination of timely and accurate data, cross platform usability and intuitive navigation,” said Ray Ewing, president and CEO of Sandicor, Inc. “Our members need the ability to access property tax data via their mobile device or desktop, and be able to create and utilize streamlined property reports with interactive features, such as parcel and topography map layers.”

CRS Data's three-year agreement provides 19,000 Sandicor members with quick online access to a wide variety of property tax data and information. From customizable maps, neighborhood and comparables information to in-depth search capabilities and thoughtful prospecting features, CRS Data's MLS Tax Suite delivers simple navigation and innovative usability.

“Our ultimate decision to partner with CRS Data was based on their approach to tax record services and the ease with which our members will be able to fully utilize the CRS system whenever and on whatever device they use to access our MLS system,” said Ewing. He added, “their data and customer experience teams have created a dynamic program that we believe will bring true value to our membership.”

Headquartered in Knoxville, Tennessee, CRS Data has expanded within the last two years to provide MLSs across the U.S. with access to comprehensive property tax data resources. Additionally servicing bankers, appraisers, investors, and other specialty financial customers, CRS Data is focused on providing accurate and timely property data, quality products and unparalleled customer satisfaction.

“Our CRS Data team is pleased to be joining Sandicor to provide our MLS Tax Suite tools to their ever-growing membership,” said Rob Williamson, director of sales for CRS Data. “We’re looking forward to integrating our system to deliver the property tax records and information their membership needs to succeed in today’s evolving marketplace.”
